Prince Rupert

Many visitors begin their day with a visit to the Cultural District, although there are endless possibilities. The Historic Downtown and Cow Bay shopping districts both offer many shops, galleries, restaurants and cafes. Prince Rupert has one of the best collections of standing totem poles in the north and there are many other hints of the rich history in the architecture and monuments that can be found throughout the community. However you chose to spend your day, you will be sure to delight in Prince Rupert's natural wilderness setting surrounded by mountains and ocean, where deer wander the streets and eagles fly overhead.
